COLORFUL ACCESSORIES

... put new sparkle in home!

The world is a color-lover's paradise these days! Fashions and home furnishings have dropped their dull, neutral facades in favor of bright, deep-tone hues.

Marking the way are new, excitingly different accessories which combine the four most popular deep colors — avocado green, true blue, hot pink and bold gold — with unique design. Everything from pillows and knick knacks to casseroles and the new Kleenex Boutique tissues reflect the trend. The Boutique tissues, for example, come in a skinnier, name-dropping box in a muted, modern pattern in varying shades of the deep-color tissues it holds.

Like many of the other accessories, the Boutique box is designed to fit in the tiniest of spaces, to add a spark of color in the most impossible of places: a tiny corner, a narrow shelf or window sill, a small, bedside table.

So you see, color is here to stay!

APRIL IS PROCLAIMED "Clean-Up and Beautification Month" in Kentucky by Gov. Louie B. Nunn. Dan'l and Rebecca Broome, mascots for the statewide beautification effort, present Nunn with the first copy of a new 32-page coloring booklet, entitled "Color Me Clean." In real life Dan'l and Rebecca are Troy Woody, Jr., 6, and his sister, Glenda, 5, of Frankfort.

U-T Vol Football Film Is Available To Clubs

KNOXVILLE—Like to see the Tennessee Volunteers in action again against Mississippi or Kentucky or Alabama? Well, thanks to the joint efforts of the Athletic Department and the UT Photographic Service this is possible.

A film, entitled the Tennessee Football Highlights 1968, is being made available to large groups and various civic clubs around the state, as well as the South. The only charge for seeing this color film is sound is incurred through shipping to and from the Athletic Department to the site of the showing.

The film shows the highlights of all Vols' games including the scoring plays and the most exciting happenings throughout the season.

From the reports that have been received from various groups that have seen the film already, the consensus is that this is the best film of its kind. Last year's film was well received and this year's is sure to be shown a larger number of times.

Inquiries as to the availability of the film should be directed to Bud Ford, Assistant Publicity Director, Athletic Department, University of Tennessee, Knoxville. All requests should be in writing and should list two or three possible dates that the film could be shown, and the bus company which serves your area. The letters will be processed and the groups notified by return mail as to the date they will receive the film and how it will be shipped.

The film is 16mm and requires about 45 minutes running time. The narration is by John Ward, Tennessee Vol Network announcer.

One 5-Star General Remains

WASHINGTON — Only Gen. Omar Bradley is left of the nine men who have worn the five stars of the nation's top military rank.

Bradley, 76, won his fifth star during the Korean War, although he was a top military commander during World War II when most of the others were accorded the rank. He now lives in Beverly Hills, Calif., and said Friday he plans to attend Eisenhower's funeral.

Besides Bradley and Dwight D. Eisenhower, the circle of stars was worn by Douglas MacArthur and George C. Marshall of the Army; Henry H. "Hap" Arnold, commander of the Army Air Corps in World War II; and Navy admirals Chester W. Nimitz, Ernest J. King, William D. Leahy and William F. "Bull" Halsey.

John J. Pershing, who led U.S. forces in World War I, was authorized six stars but wore only four.

How To Put On Lipstick

Lipstick is for your lips — not your clothes, teeth or towels. To help you keep lip make-up where it belongs, remember these quick tricks with facial tissues.

The first step is to put lipstick on scientifically. Most make-up experts advise you to outline your lips with a lipstick brush. If that's tricky for you, try applying it straight from the tube first by following your natural lip lines. Then smooth out and contour afterwards with a lip brush.

For long-lasting, nonsmearing results, blot with a junior-size tissue, powder, reapply and blot again. Kleenex Juniors, two-thirds the size of regular tissues, are just right for the job.

Wandering lipstick stains turn up most often on towels and washcloths. Before washing your face or taking a shower, completely remove your lip make-up. First rub lips with cold cream. Then wipe clean with facial tissues. A box of Kleenex Juniors in the bathroom will speed up the chore.

The same rules apply away from home when you're a guest at a friend's house or a hotel. Never remove lipstick with a towel or washcloth. Carry several tissues in your purse for that purpose.

When dressing or trying on clothes, hold a tissue between your lips to prevent smearing and to protect garments.

Remove lipstick before you get into bed, and you'll keep pillowcases free of stains as well.

OUR BOUNTIFUL FOOD SUPPLY

Any way you want to slice it, the nicest thing about our food supply is that there is plenty to slice.

One hears complaints that the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture has this program or that, that costs taxpayers money. Some writers refer repeatedly to the "farm scandal" as though something is going on out there that is sinful indeed.

All I know is we have the best food supply in the world. And other countries wish they could do as well.

American Farmers Are Best

This has got to mean that American farmers are the best. And they've been helped not little by our system of land grant agricultural colleges and universities which have conducted most of the agricultural research and passed the know-how on to the farmer. There also is no little credit due such free enterprise organizations as those businesses that supply agriculture. Put it all together and you have something to be both proud of and grateful for. We are healthy and strong. And we can help feed less fortunate people elsewhere in the world, not just with food itself but agricultural know-how as well.

Meantime, though, there are two problems at home. The first is how to share the food supply more fully with all our people. Some Americans are significantly undernourished because of poverty. We must find answers to that. Other Americans are undernourished because they make poor food selections even though they can afford whatever they need. Well, columns like this one are an effort to interest people more in knowing how they should eat.

The second problem is related to our friends who are over-nourished. Overweight people are found among the rich and even more often in poorer families. These people, obviously, are also in the class of those who don't know what they should eat, or at least if they know, they don't practice good sense.

So we have the world's most bountiful food supply. We also have problems. But these are identified and that's half the battle. Frankly, I'm hopeful.

As for our food suppliers, there's a word to say, too, for the food processors and distributors who do such a magnificent job of daily offering us the widest variety of foods in all seasons. Today's food technology coupled with the refrigeration and distribution systems we have in the United States are a miracle indeed. Your milk comes to you in impeccable condition.

Wide Variety Available

Other foods are packaged attractively and with efficiency. Flavor and color receive maximum protection. There is every variety of convenience foods if you don't want to really fix things yourself. And there are sizes and quantities of packaging to match every need from the large family to the person who lives alone. It's all quite a performance.

Gov. Ellington Defends His School Spending

NASHVILLE — Gov. Buford Ellington defended today his school spending to the group most personally affected, telling 6,000 Tennessee public school teachers, "There should be no question . . . where we placed our priorities. We have sought educational advancement."

Telling the Tennessee Education Association that his budget calls for salary increases of between $300 and $500 over the next two years for teachers, the governor also announced his full support for a proposal to upgrade retirement benefits. This, he said, would be done by "using five years of highest salary for retirement purposes instead of 10." The result will be to give a higher average—and a higher pension.

At the same time, the governor said, "The public is now demanding, and with justification, that all education expenditures be examined just as closely as other tax dollars."

"It is not enough to simply say so many dollars are budgeted for education," he said, "it is imperative that the public know exactly how these dollars are being spent and whether or not they are being spent wisely."

Area Man Wins DFC In Vietnam

FULTON, Ky., March 28 — Major Charles R. Bowen, son of Mrs. Floyd Bowen of South Fulton, has been presented the Distinguished Flying Cross at Albuquerque, N.M.

The citation that accompanied the award is as follows:

"Major Charles R. Bowen distinguished himself by extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flight as an F-4C Aircraft Commander near Can Tho, Republic of Vietnam on 13 June, 1967. On that date, Major Bowen was flying a close air support mission against unfriendly ground forces. In spite of ground fire, low clouds obscuring the target area and the close proximity of friendly troops, he delivered all of his ordnance directly on target.

"The results of this air strike enabled friendly forces to seize many weapons, considerable amounts of ammunition and important documents. The professional competence, aerial skill, and devotion to duty displayed by Major Bowen reflects great credit upon himself and the United States Air Force."

S. Fulton Names Beadles, Kurling

SOUTH FULTON, Tenn.—Terry Beadles has been named head coach in football and basketball at South Fulton High School here and Kerry Kurling will be his assistant in both sports.

Beadles, alltime great Fulton High athlete, and Kurling, a former prep star at Caldwell County High, were teammates on the University of Kentucky football squad.

The announcement of their appointment was made Thursday by school officials.

Beadles, a star in football, basketball and baseball at FHS, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Beadles. He was a standout guard on the 1962 First Region champion Bulldog basketball team, but decided to stick to the gridiron at UK.

He starred with the Kittens freshman squad and received second team All-SEC and honorable mention All-American honors as a sophomore defensive safety. He switched to quarterback during his final two seasons with the 'Cats.

Kurling, who like his new boss is 23, was twice named All-State at Caldwell County. He was named to the High School All-America team his senior year, the season in which the Tigers won the State AA Championship.

While at Kentucky, Kurling was an outstanding defensive guard and captained the 1968 Wildcat team. He was awarded the WHAS award for outstanding leadership, sportsmanship and scholarship and was named the outstanding senior on the squad.

It was also announced that David Briann, girls basketball coach, will remain at this post, and Gerald Tabor, boys round-ball mentor, is considering an administrative position in the Obion County system.

SHE'S 80—Mrs. Lelia Ashton Everett (center) of Union City, mother of the late Rep. Robert A. Everett, was the honored guest Monday night at a party given in the home of Lt. and Mrs. Bill Moore in observance of Mrs. Everett's 80th birthday. It was also Lt. Moore's birthday and about 25 guests were present.

Everett, probably to be situated on the lawn of the Obion County Courthouse in Union City. The memorial fund also hopes to establish one or more scholarships to the yet-to-be-established School of Nursing at the University of Tennessee at Martin and one or more general scholarships at Murray State University at Murray, Ky.

Mayor Charles H. 'Red' Adams of Union City, president of the foundation, said a $100 contribution to the fund has been received from Fred Paxton, managing director of television station WPSD-TV in Paducah.

In an accompanying letter, Mr. Paxton wrote: "We shared with Mr. Everett's friends a sense of personal loss at his death, for many of us at the television station were in fact personal friends of his."

"Now, we would also like to have a part in perpetuating his memory," Mr. Paxton said.

"This is evidence," Mayor Adams commented, "that more than just residents of the Eighth Congressional District are interested in the goals of the memorial funds."

Donations may be mailed to the Robert A. 'Fats' Everett Memorial Fund, P. O. Box 69, Union City, Tenn., 38261.

UT Challenge Gets Response

Twelve University of Tennessee alumni in Obion County have made contributions to the U-T Annual Giving Program in a bid to meet the challenge issued two months ago by Clayton Arnold, U-T's greatest living benefactor.

Stockton Adkins, local U-T alumni leader, said the Obion County chapter needs 80 contributors to meet the challenge. Deadline is June 30.

"All former U-T students living in this county are qualified as alumni, and they as well as friends of the institution may make contributions that will count toward meeting the challenge," Mr. Adkins said.

Those desiring to contribute may send their gifts (in any amount) to Annual Giving Program, Box 8880, The University of Tennessee, Knoxville.

Mr. Arnold, a retired rural mail carrier-farmer of Thompsons Station (Williamson County), Tenn., has agreed to make a personal gift of $1,000 to a U-T scholarship fund for every county alumni chapter with a 50 per cent increase in the number of contributors to the Annual Giving Fund (which also goes for scholarships, library books, and other worthy causes) during the current school year.

He has also issued the same challenge to 38 alumni chapters in cities of other states, which means that he is willing to give a total of $133,000 if all 95 counties and the 38 cities come through.

This is the second challenge Mr. Arnold has presented to U-T alumni. In 1966, he promised to give the university $100,000.

Former House Pages Join Everett Drive

A group of three young men from Haywood County and their parents have launched an effort to get all former pages of the late Rep. Robert A. Everett of Union City active in the Robert A. 'Fats' Everett Memorial Fund, Inc., campaign.

Billy Hooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Hooper; Ken Clark, son of Mrs. Mildred Clark, and Louis Matherne, son of Judge and Mrs.

Kirby Matherne, all of the Brownsville community, kicked off the movement last week and now have enlisted the support of 14 other Haywood County young men who also served as pages in the House of Representatives for Mr. Everett at one time or another during Mr. Everett's almost 11 years of service in Congress. "All 17 have contributed to the foundation themselves and are hoping that former pages in other counties in the Eighth Congressional District will organize to do all they can to help the project," Mrs. Mack Hooper told The Messenger by long-distance telephone today.

Many Obion County youths served as Everett-appointed pages for periods of one month to six months and are expected to join the effort, local sources said today.

The fund was established several weeks ago and is dedicated to the erection of a statue of Mr.

Everett Fund Exceeds $5,000

Another spurt in donations has shot the Robert A. 'Fats' Everett Memorial Foundation total over the $5,000 mark, according to Mayor Charles H. 'Red' Adams of Union City, foundation president.

Included among the donors announced today by Mayor Adams are residents of three states, including Tennessee, Georgia and Michigan.

The foundation hopes to raise enough money to erect a statue of the late Rep. Everett, to be placed on the east lawn of the Obion County Courthouse, to supply one or more nursing scholarships to the University of Tennessee at Martin and one or more general scholarships to Murray State University, where Rep. Everett earned his college degree.

Democrat-GOP Race Looms In 5th District

MURRAY, Ky.

Max B. Hurt of Kirksey, a retired businessman and educator, has filed for representative in the 5th District of Calloway and Trigg counties, setting the stage for a rare Republican-Democrat contest in the two heavily Democratic counties.

Hurt is a lifelong Republican. Guy Lovins of Murray, who has filed for the position, and Rep. Charlie Lassiter, who holds the 5th District seat now, are Democrats.

Lassiter has not formally announced as a candidate for reelection but is expected to do so soon. The filing deadline is April 5.

Lassiter, who is director of pupil personnel in the Calloway County school system, has been in the legislature since 1962.

Lovins also is a retired educator. He held a position similar to that of Lassiter at one time.

Hurt, graduate of Murray State in the class of 1927 who now heads the Murray State University Alumni Association, rose to executive vice president of the Woodmen of the World.

He served as principal of Kirksey and Water Valley and Concord high schools before leaving the field of education.

Hurt, who lives on a farm not far from here, filed as a candidate for the House Wednesday in Frankfort.

It had been widely reported that he would run for the office.

Hurt is well known as a public speaker and for his role in the Kenlake Amphitheater production, "Stars in My Crown," the story of Alben W. Barkley woven into the history of this area's rivers and the Tennessee Valley Authority.

As president of the West Kentucky Productions Association, sponsor of the outdoor drama, Hurt engineered the show through two seasons.

Garrigan Eyes Trustee Post

Paul Garrigan, a farmer of the Woodland Mills area and a longtime member of the Obion County Quarterly Court, today became the first announced candidate for the position of Obion County Trustee, subject to the Democratic primary in August.

Earl Thorpe, who has been elected to the office for three terms and who has purchased an interest in the Browder Chevrolet Company, said today he will not be a candidate for re-election.

Mr. Garrigan, a member of the county court for the past 10 years, earlier this month ran for and won the single at-large position on the new re-apportioned 36-member court.

Mr. Garrigan has operated the Charlie Everett farm near Woodland since 1949.

In announcing his candidacy Mr. Garrigan said:

"Having served on the Obion County Quarterly Court for the past 10 years, I feel I am qualified to serve in this position of high trust. Within the next five months I hope to see as many Obion Countians as possible but I would like to take this opportunity of asking for your vote and support."

Mr. Garrigan was born near Woodland Mills, son of Mrs. Dee Garrigan of Union City and the late Hugh Garrigan Sr. He attended schools at Woodland Mills and Jordan before graduating from Cayce High School in 1940.

After farming with his father a year, Mr. Garrigan entered the Marines and served in the South Pacific. Upon his discharge he returned home and farmed once again with his father.

Table Tricks with Napkins

When the climate outside is bright and warm, try matching your family's springtime mood by making dinner a festive event. Cook an elegant new dish, try serving a buffet instead of a sit-down dinner, — and decorate the dinner table with paper napkins folded in fancy shapes.

Instead of laying a rectangular-folded napkin next to the silverware, tie dinner napkins into "Unsquare Knots" to lay on top of plates.

To make, open a Kleenex dinner napkin. Then bring the two opposite corners together at the center. Fold this figure in half lengthwise and again in thirds. Then tie a knot.

MSU Regents Take Hard-Line Stand On Campus Disorders

MURRAY, Ky. —Murray State University "will not allow or tolerate any disruptive or disorderly conduct which interferes with the rights and opportunities of those who attend the university for the purpose for which the university exists," the MSU board of regents has said in a strong statement of policies and regulations aimed at campus demonstrations.

Pointing out that every student has the right to utilize and enjoy the facilities provided to obtain an education, the board said that, under its stated policy, any violator will be dismissed from the student body or staff and that non-student violators would be turned over to regular law enforcement officers.

Declaring that "attendance of Murray State University is a privilege and not a right," the MSU board said the university will not permit:

1. Intimidation.
2. Destruction of property.
3. Interference with any university pedestrian and/or vehicular traffic.

4. Force or violence or the threat of force or violence.
5. The harassment of students, faculty, administrative staff, guest speakers, or agencies and representatives of organizations who have a right to appear on the campus.

Any violation of these policies and regulations "will lead to appropriate disciplinary action by university officials and/or local, state or governing authority."

"Under this policy, the university by due process, may dismiss students, faculty or staff. Similar action may be taken against those who advocate or encourage such described activities," said the board.

The action was recommended by a committee headed by Dean William G. Nash. Also on the committee, appointed by MSU President Harry Sparks, were Howard C. Giles, E. B. Howton, Ben Humphreys, Karl Hussing and Wallace Swan of the university staff and Spencer Solomon, president of the student organization.

"It is the desire of Murray State University to provide a wholesome social, educational and moral atmosphere for the students so they may have the opportunity to develop to the fullest extent," said the regents in the statement.

The board also said:

"The university respects the rights of all members of the academic community—students, administration, faculty, staff and non-academic personnel—to explore and discuss questions or issues which interest them, to express opinions publicly and privately, to join together to express their concern by orderly means. The university believes in and encourages all recognized and acceptable freedoms including the freedom of dissent; however, students and faculty must sustain rigorous self-discipline by guaranteeing to others the freedoms they themselves indulge and demand.

"The university commits itself to the peaceful and orderly methods of the democratic process and channels of communication through which misunderstandings and disagreements can be solved."

State Highway Chief Dedicates Parkway

By BILL POWELL
Sun-Democrat Roving Editor

BENTON, Ky.,
Three million Kentuckians have realized that "we must provide good roads collectively—we can have them only through collective effort," Kentucky Highway Commissioner Eugene Goss said here today.

Goss, dedicating the 52-mile Purchase Parkway in a program at the Benton toll plaza, said the Purchase Parkway "is expected to recover only 41 per cent of its total cost through tolls collected."

"This means, in effect," he said, "this tremendous highway located here in the western extremity of the commonwealth is subsidized by the tax dollars of many Kentuckians who will never see it, never use it."

Goss added:
"My home county is just about as far as you can get from here and stay in the commonwealth. There are 51,000 Harlan countians and, as far as I know, I am the only one here today. You may watch this highway for some time before you spot a Harlan license plate. Yet Harlan countians—including me—will help pay for the Jackson Purchase Parkway."

He said it is a credit to all Kentuckians that they are willing to take on the burden of paying a good part of the cost of this highway, either in immediate taxes or in long-term debt.

"We have done it because we recognize there is a need for this road, a need that must be met if the Purchase is to continue to grow. If you are to maintain and expand your economy," he said.

(Former commissioner of highways Henry Ward, now publisher of the Sun-Democrat, said Goss was not accurate in his statement.

"In financing the Purchase Parkway it was tied in with the Pennyrite Parkway and revenue from both will be pooled to meet amortization payments," he said.

(Ward said he believed the revenue from the two roads would pay for both. If there is a deficiency, it will be made up out of the road fund—not the state's general fund, he added.)

Goss added:
"The Purchase Parkway cost $444 billion—but it means no more to you than you make it mean. If you use this highway to build a bigger and better economy, if you will make your cities and countryside so attractive that investors and other visitors will come to the Purchase and travel this highway, then the commitment of three million Kentuckians will be worthwhile."
